

An international law firm in Monaco

Groom Hill is a leading independent private client law firm based in the Principality of Monaco.

Our approach is to provide clear, practical and pragmatic advice to our clients on their multi-jurisdictional affairs.

The firm's partners are English qualified solicitors and the firm is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority of England and Wales and by the Monégasque government.

Our work has an international focus and our practice areas include general corporate and commercial matters, real estate and yachting transactions, trusts and estate planning and Monaco residence.

Our clients include entrepreneurs and other private individuals with whom we have a close relationship (and for whom we are often involved in the setting up and administration of family offices), as well as international companies and legal and accounting firms in many jurisdictions.

Practice areas

▲ Corporate / Commercial

We work closely with our clients on the structuring of their businesses and corporate affairs, advising on a wide range of corporate and commercial matters including international structures, acquisitions, joint ventures and services agreements, often in conjunction with legal and accounting practices in a variety of jurisdictions. We also advise on the structuring and establishment of corporate entities in Monaco.
